Scottish Community Drama Western Divisional Open Finals

The Fullarton, Castle Douglas 2014
Adjudicator ~ Paul Dougal

This year the Western Committee has decided to trial a change to the festival format. Since Thursday festival nights tend to attract a lower turnout, it was decided to open the festival on the Friday and stage the final on the Sunday afternoon. It is hoped that this will improve audience numbers.

This is, however, only a trial and the committee would like to know if people feel the change has been for the better.

Please note that, since refurbishment, The Fullarton now only has 172 seats, which will be sold on a first-come basis.
