

Bring your inner voice to life by creating characters and situations for the stage.

Play on words

The Play on Words playwriting competition has been releasing playwriting talent from all around Scotland for more than twenty years.

Playwriting competition

The competition is open to anyone based in Scotland. The winning playwrights will be able to work with a professional director to develop their script for a performance. The final scripts will also be published.

Entries by the 31st March 2021.
